

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ELEVEN ELEVEN AGENCY, DUBSPOT & MARY ANNE HOBBS PRESENT

“ THE ROAD WARRIOR TOUR”

A MIXED SERIES OF SOLO PERFORMANCES AND CURATED SHOWCASES KICKS OFF IN APRIL WITH AUDIO & VISUAL POSTCARDS FROM TOUR FEATURED ON XFM

Its been almost a year since Mary Anne Hobbs slayed the dancefloors of North America with her relentless DJ sets by turning an unwieldy situation into her impromptu “Volcano Refugee Party” tour, during which she graciously announced the end of her legendary BBC Radio1 Experimental program last year. She’s been busy working at Sheffield University Union of Students as the Media Development Coordinator, as well as watching Black Swan reach critical success, which she helped source the music for. In April 2011, she returns to North America with a mixed series of solo performances and curated showcases featuring special guests Gonjasufi, Lorn, Take, Strangeloop, and others on select dates.

Mary Anne Hobbs has just recently announced her return to radio on Xfm, the station where she launched her career in radio, presenting a weekly show beginning in a primetime Saturday evening slot. The new Xfm show premieres July 9th but Mary Anne will be presenting a series of audio and visual postcards from her American tour throughout April, which will feature online at xfm.co.uk as well as on air. She’ll also be publishing her tour blog & video updates, covered exclusively by URB Magazine.

“The Road Warrior Tour” is sponsored by Dubspot, a cutting-edge electronic music production and DJ school based in New York, where Mary Anne will be stopping by to conduct a workshop for students during her stop in the city. Los Angeles fashion designer Adam Saaks has also partnered with the tour, creating his signature custom-cut attire for Mary Anne Hobbs’ performances. Adam has fashioned clothing designs for celebrities and rockstars such as Keira Knightly, Eva Longoria, Alicia Keys, Eve, Jessica Alba, Paris and Nicky Hilton, Nicole Ritchie, Shannon Elizabeth, Heather Graham, Lenny Kravitz, Justin Timberlake, and many more.
